EXPERIENCE

I have been a Financial Adviser for over thirty-three years and very much enjoy helping people make sound decisions about their money.

From an early age, I have been conscious of the benefits of saving, and one of my core drivers is helping people deal with their money and wealth by providing objective advice.

I use a consultative process that involves; establishing and reviewing my client's current position, helping them reflect on what is important, and then facilitating an exploration of their options and what is possible with their resources. This process enables clients to prioritise and plan. My client's best feedback is when they let me know they have gained greater peace of mind and an improved sense of security through having a plan in place.

I have a particular interest and experience in helping clients through many of life's transitions. These transitions can include; pre and post-retirement, separation (probably the most challenging of transitions), career change, receipt of an inheritance, or the death of a spouse.

I am one of the founding partners of Cambridge Partners Limited.

- meet standards of competence, knowledge, and skill requirements designed to make sure that I have the expertise needed to provide you with advice.

PRODUCT PROVIDER LIMITATIONS

I am not tied to any product provider, and the specific details of providers I recommend will be detailed in my advice documentation.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND INCENTIVES

Cambridge Partners has a Conflicts of Interest Policy designed to identify potential conflicts. This policy is designed to ensure your interests are always prioritised over mine. Regular training is provided to ensure any actual or perceived conflicts are identified and managed appropriately to ensure they do not impact the independence of advice.

I may receive dividends due to my shareholding in Cambridge Partners Limited.

I am also a founding shareholder in Consilium NZ Limited, the provider of platform, investment fund and administration services to clients of Cambridge Partners. Consilium NZ Limited owns Synergy Investments NZ Limited, which provides a range of diversified investment strategies utilised by some Cambridge Partners' clients.

After having undertaken extensive three-yearly due diligence on the custodial platform, the Consilium NZ conflict is managed by ensuring that clients face no increase in platform services fees. Negotiations are conducted on an arm's length basis by excluding conflicted directors and shareholders from the negotiation process and recusing them from all votes giving rise to the conflict of interest.

The Synergy Investments' conflict is managed by me not participating in any discussions, negotiations, or decisions relating to the selection of Synergy as a product provider.

I may receive business support services from suppliers, including training and educational assistance, from time to time. I may also, on occasion, receive sundry merchandising materials.

I am remunerated by salary and a discretionary bonus. The discretionary bonus is based on a number of metrics set at the start of each financial year, including achieving client service levels, compliance obligations, and new business. Cambridge Partners receives all adviser and planning fees disclosed.

RELIABILITY HISTORY

Neither Cambridge Partners Limited nor I have been bankrupt or insolvent, have no criminal convictions, or have been publicly disciplined (referred to as a reliability event).
